The Brain Parts: Group Presentations

Directions: For each specific brain part that is presented write two pieces of information that you took away from the group presenting. Needs to be specific to that part of the brain. May not be a generalization that their part was important to the brain. This piece of the assignment will have an effect on your overall grade for the project. Make sure you are attentive and respectful to your classmates. This is your individual assignment just as the grade you will receive will be yours alone. Provide detail in your examples and explanations. Write it in full sentences.
